

D 51492

(Pages 2)

Name.....

Reg. No.....

THIRD SEMESTER B.TECH. (ENGINEERING) DEGREE
EXAMINATION, DECEMBER 2008

IT 04 306—TECHNICAL ARGUMENTATION

(2004 admissions)

Time : Three Hours

Maximum : 100 Marks

Answer all questions.

Part A

- I. (a) With suitable examples, explain various definitions of arguments.
(b) List out the advantages of planning arguments over other types of arguments.
(c) Write short notes on Annotating and Plagiarism.
(d) Discuss the role of children in surfing the web.
(e) Explain the role of magazines in technical research.
(f) Write short notes on various library resources.
(g) Discuss the Drafting Researched Paper with suitable examples.
(h) Explain the role of interviews in technical research.

(8 × 5 = 40 marks)

Part B

- II. (a) Write a summary about the argumentation of Mahatma Gandhi on Brahmacharya.

Or

- (b) Write short notes on :
(i) Logical fallacies.
(ii) Importance of arguments.

- III. (a) With suitable examples briefly explain the process of documentation.

Or

- (b) Write short notes on different forms of persuasion.

Turn over

IV. (a) Explain the role and importance of journals in original research.

Or

(b) Discuss the advantages and disadvantages of using internet in the society and in the research.

V. (a) Explain the case study involving gas control and immigration.

Or

(b) What is bibliography ? Explain its impact on research paper. Write merits and demerits of it

(4 × 15 = 60 marks)